

What is your favorite resilience "tactic"?

Does your organization support this behavior?

From whom do you receive support?

