The Goal Is NOT Assimilation

It is crucial to understand your organizational culture,
BUT finding the “right fit” is about inclusion,
contribution, and positive evolution/change

EXAMPLES OF ASSIMILATION

- Rigid expectations about how “professionalism” is defined
- Hiring for “Culture fit”
- “This is how we do things here/That’s not how we do things here”
- Rewarding conformity
- Avoiding conflict

COMMUNICATION, COMMUNICATION, COMMUNICATION!

Continuous, two-way communication may include:

- Listening sessions
- Stay interviews
- Formal or informal recognition

COMMUNICATION IN THE WORKPLACE

- What you say and what you do matters
- How you say it and the actions you take matter
- When and where you say it matters
- Practice bidirectional or multidirectional communication that is clear, concise, direct, and mindful
 - Create a dialogue
 - Don't be dismissive
 - Be open – listen, learn, adapt
- Take a strengths-based perspective
- Appreciation goes a long way!

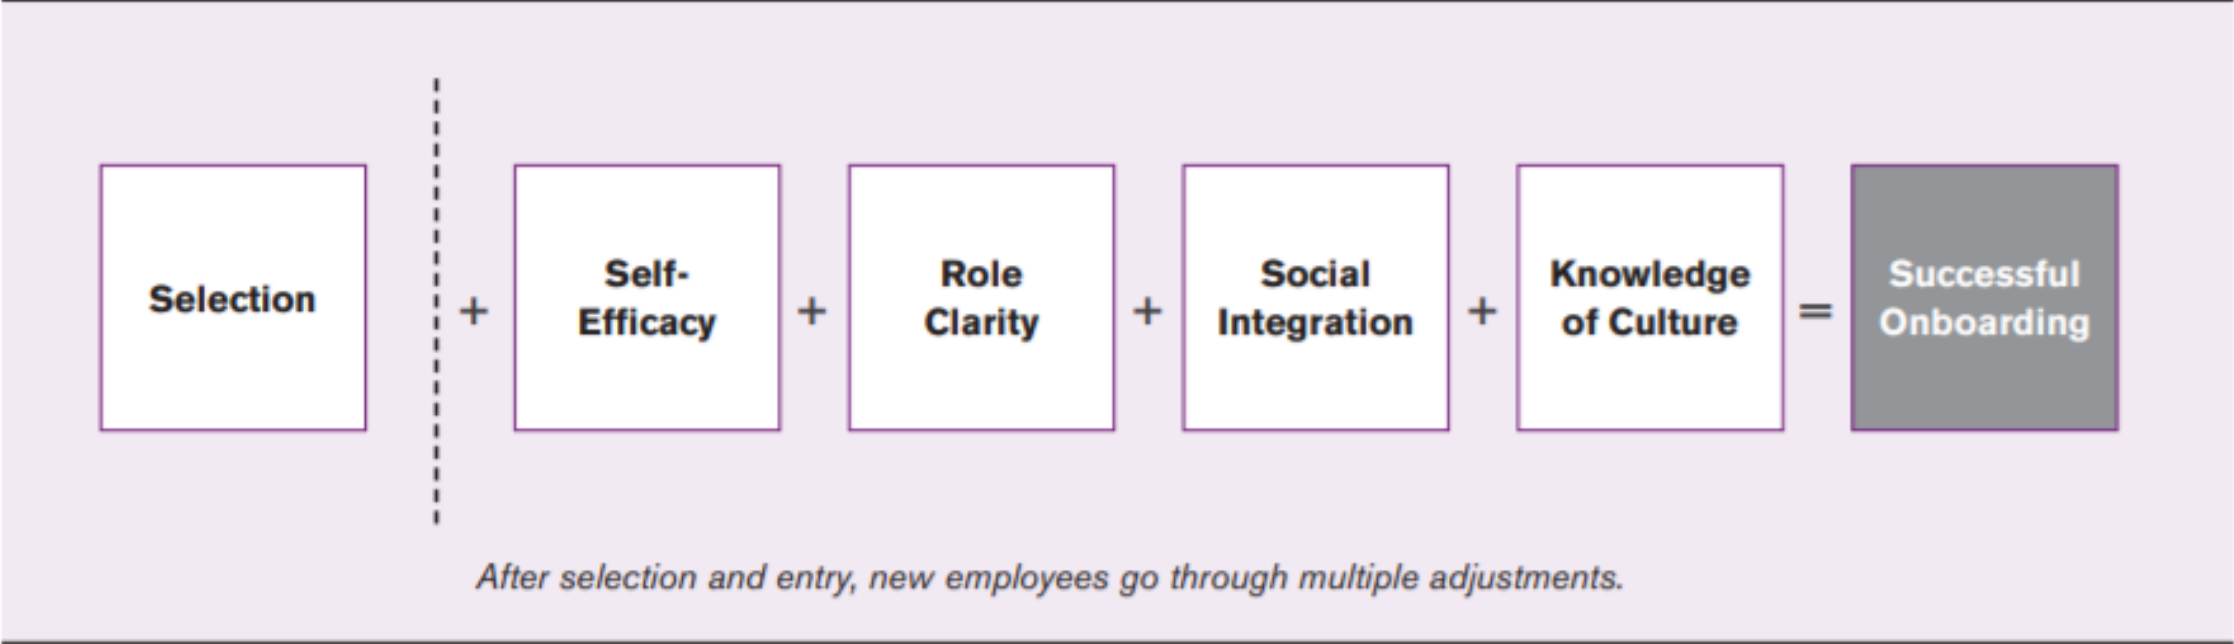

QUESTIONS TO ASK

- What impression do you want a new hire to walk away with after the first day?
- What do new employees need to know?
- How are you going to introduce your organization's culture and work environment to the new hire?
- What is everyone's role (HR, managers, co-workers)?
- What are the goals for your new hire?
- How long will onboarding last?
- How will you assess and measure the effectiveness of your onboarding program?

- Assign a person and a realistic timeline for each onboarding activity
- Set expectations and goals for the new hire

JEDI PRACTICES FOR ONBOARDING
